THE PROMISE OF AN UNPARALLELED LIFE STYLE

Palazzo
PARK RESIDENCES

ROMAN ARCHITECTURE

Roman culture resonates among modern building styles because of the structural mastering of the dome, pediments and the arch. When a building has substantial weight bearing down on lower levels, columns can easily support the weight when it is distributed through an arch, reducing the stress significantly. The arch, for this reason, is the most famous and most modernly used aspect of Roman architecture and can be seen nearly anywhere.

The Dome is not used as frequently among modern buildings, but it is widely used to show prominence and elegance. Modern use of Ancient Roman Architecture is most commonly used as an allusion to Ancient Rome itself.

The Palazzo exemplifies this timeless architectural style but at the same time, has unique elements imbibed into the design which impart to it a fresh and unique look.
